CURRICULUM NEWS

Curriculum Day – Friday August 17th, 2012.

The staff at Cranbourne Primary School will be participating in a Curriculum Day this term. This is an opportunity for our staff to work together to plan and discuss curriculum topics, to ensure that we are providing the best learning opportunities for your children.

On 17th August we will be reflecting on our current practice as well as identifying possible initiatives to trial in the near future.

As you may already be aware, there are plans for a National Curriculum to be introduced in 2013. Our Curriculum Day will also give our staff an opportunity to investigate the new curriculum in preparation for next year, and how it is going to affect our school community.

Please remember, students do not attend school on this day.
