Principal's News

Tomorrow is a special day in Australia.

Anzac day is dedicated to sustaining the memory of soldiers who served our country in times of war.

As the oldest school in Cranbourne we have records of students who attended our school who participated in World War I. These names are listed on our Memorial Board, which is currently awaiting relocation.

I will be attending the Cranbourne community Anzac service tomorrow morning at 10.00 am at the memorial statue in main street. I would be delighted to be joined by any members of our community during this ceremony.

The school will have a wreath to lay at the base of the shrine with other community groups during the ceremony and I will be looking to select some student representatives to join me. If you and your child attend the ceremony, and your child would like to be considered to have this honour, please ensure they wear their full school uniform.

I look forward to seeing some of you at tomorrow.

CURRICULUM NEWS

Student Progress Discussions

This is an important event happening at the end of this term. These discussions are a great opportunity for parents and teachers to get together to discuss the progress students have made so far and the areas that they need to improve. These meetings are also an opportunity for parents to provide information on issues or situations that may be impacting on their child's learning. Teachers look forward to meeting all parents and having the opportunity to discuss student achievements and to help our students set goals for future learning. We would love to see all families attend this term's discussions, so please look out for the notice, which will be distributed in the next few weeks.

Home Reading

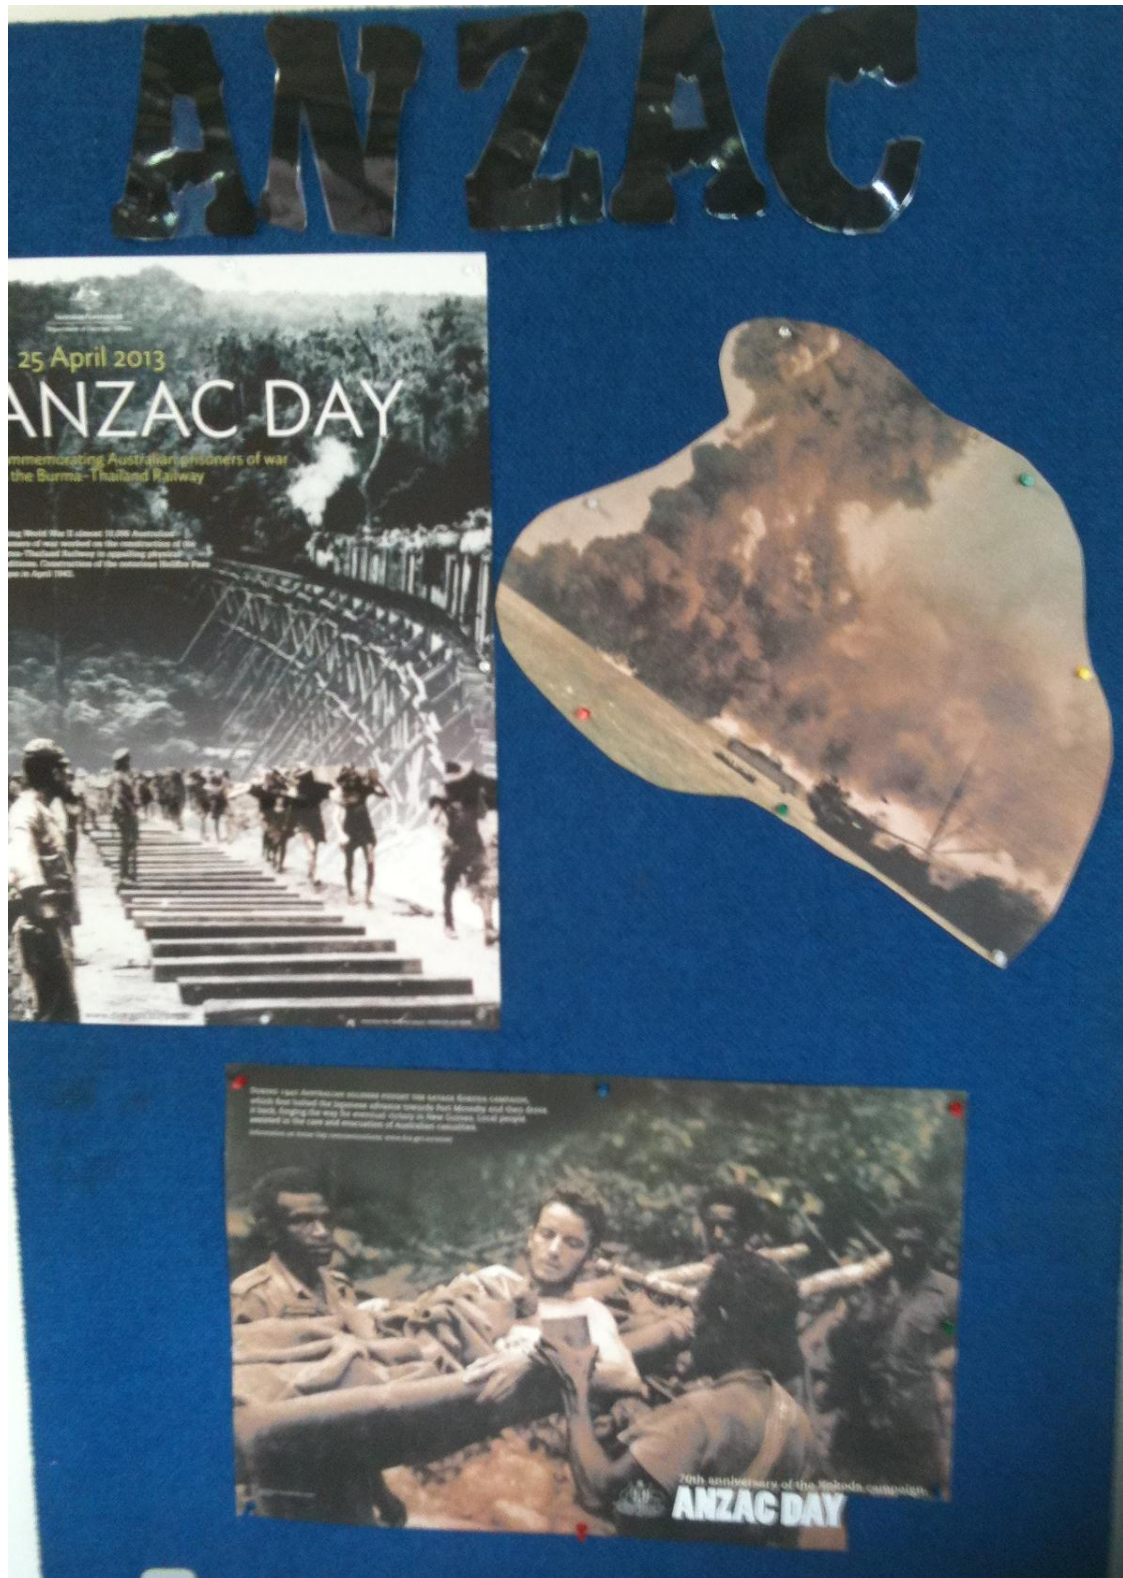

It is great to hear that so many of our students are reading every night and steadily working towards 100 nights of reading – I believe many of our Preps are very close to achieving this! It is important that all of our students are reading every night, and record their nightly reading in the Reading Log or School Diary.

All students should also have a Book Bag to carry their Take Home books, Reading Log/Diary, Library books and school notices in. If your child does not have one as yet, please purchase one from Beleza. Using these bags helps our students to be more organised as well as protecting our books.
