PRINCIPAL'S NEWS

LIFE!

Life is filled with many events. Whilst the students, staff and parents interact daily in the school environment, we all have lives beyond the school fence—private lives in our homes with our families.

Many parents stop and chat with me to share their families news—some exciting and some heartbreaking, which I always feel honored by. I value those times as I feel when we let people into our private lives, we open a bond that connects us in a special way. Today I would like to share with the community my special news.

May is always a special month in my family, as there are many birthdays including my own, which was on Sunday, celebrated with my husband, my four daughters, my parents and my grandchildren. I have had three grandchildren until recently, when only two weeks ago, two of my daughters had babies, which now makes five grandchildren. Bringing babies into families is such a special time—I love seeing the mothers at school visit us with their new babies and the smiles that our students have when they proudly show off their new siblings.

My new grandchildren's name are Trey and Henley—I am always interested and intrigued with the names families choose—I had a conversation with some of our senior students last week and they shared with me some stories of where their names came from—some had family names that had been passed down, some were named after significant people, some were combinations of family members.

Our names are unique to us and represent who we are—they determine our identity and help us to connect. If you are at school collecting your child, I invite you to introduce yourself to someone new and make a connection—you never know where you will find a friend.

Curriculum

This week is Education Week.

Education Week is an opportunity to showcase and celebrate excellence in education through open days, exhibitions and special events. 2019 is the 75th year of Education Week and it aims to positively profile and celebrate the strengths and achievements of Victoria's government education sector.

This year the theme is 'Celebrating Careers'. Students will have an opportunity to think about and discuss what job/career they might like for their future. They may come home and speak to you about your job/career choices, so please take the opportunity to discuss this with your child.
